From Renny Russell,
the author of...

"Renny Russell's Rock Me on the Water is at its heart courageous. To return to the same power of nature that took his brother thirty years previous—to be with it, to confront it, to take solace in it, and to be inspired and healed by it—is remarkable in itself. His book is, as well, a testament to the evocative rhythms of the wilds. In this complicated dance, this profoundly personal journey, Renny Russell also gives us an amazingly spirited tour of one of the truly great landscapes of the American West and a keen understanding of its power to shape a life."

"DOG of the MONTH"

'COOPER' the wonder dog

He was spotted in a dog adoption brochure and when the Mortons were told to pick him up, they learned their new pet was available at San Francisco International. Cooper, as it turns out, was a homeless dog in Taiwan. He flew to the US to begin his new life...one lucky dog.

He was named 'Cooper' for his uncanny resemblance to CNN's Anderson Cooper, though we doubt the newsman's tongue can hold a candle (length-wise) to his canine namesake.

This publication is also mystified that a dog can shed as much as this Big Fella does and still have ANY hair left at all.

Still...kudos and a tip of the hat to Cooper...the Zephyr's Dog of the Month.
